Hi Rob

We do offer an additional green refuse bin for residents that have a requirement for collection of 'offensive' clinical waste such as sanitary or nappy pads etc. We also offer an additional green refuse bin to families that have 3 or more children in nappies for a limited period, this would be removed when it is no longer needed due to children no longer using nappies. We do ask for proof of the requirement for this via evidence of child benefit being received.

I hope this helps but if you have any other queries please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards

Dear Alister

At our recent Environment Committee meeting, the recycling of household waste was discussed, particularly efforts to reinforce the message to households about putting the correct items into the recycling bins.

For households that have large amounts of sanitary pads or nappies, is there any separate facility that a householder can organise for disposing of these items?

I would be grateful for any advice you can give.

Many thanks &
Kind regards
